Elders Insurance - Australian & New Zealand Institute of Insurance and Finance

Business Relationship

As a corporate client of ANZIIF, Elders Insurance is proud to be in a business partnership of education and advancement for our Staff and Authorised Representative network, and ultimately the financial service industry as a whole.

The significant success of compliance and accreditation training and development in Elders Insurance can rightfully be attributed to the business relationship we have with ANZIIF, which can be summarised by the word, professional.

ANZIIF's business ethos and practice is unquestionably professional and is the reason why they are the leaders in their field in Australia, New Zealand and the Asia-Pacific region.

The attention and dedication of ANZIIF Management and Staff to their operations is impeccable – in particular the service to their customers which is strengthened through a 'team' approach, with open communications and co-operative interactions. As a client and colleague, I value the personal interest in my business needs. They are responsive, supportive and reliable, in that I know that each and every time I deal with their staff I will get the same consistent, high level of service my business demands. The attention to detail in all matters is second to none.

The quality of the products, programs, resources and services they provide is truly professional in all aspects, from the production of their printed documentation, to the degree of detail in their multimedia presentations. They are world class, employ leading technology and combine creativity and innovation that continually raises the bench mark for knowledge and skills acquisition.

Elders Insurance is fully supportive of ANZIIF's vision and mission for education of our industry and trusts and respects our business relationship as key to the success of our company in our market of regional and rural insurance.

Elders actively encourages our staff to become full members of ANZIIF, to support their leadership in the industry and the work that they do towards fostering professionalism in insurance.
